OTHER:
My youthful years nurtured in a mega city by a single parent, only child, attending both private, public schools, and city college. A diverse background living and working in many regions of the U.S., Europe, and Pacific areas. Well versed in cultural environments and use of various current technologies.

STATEMENT:
I am a well-rounded person working through adversity giving me strength, determination, and resilience in successfully helping those in need and solving matters.

Assigned to Alaska along with my family, making my home in lower East Anchorage, made our choice to be “Sourdoughs” and it’s not bread; it’s a way of life in the greatest state of the United States.

Most candidates that run for office make promises to insure your vote. The only promise that I will stand by is that I will represent my constituents to the best of my ability and listen to their needs and suggestions about improving the best quality of life living in Alaska.

Service has been my life experience: the military, my family, my local community, and the Municipal Assembly. The choice to live in Anchorage after my military retirement was my choice and I have no regrets. Two sons not only lived in Anchorage but also had the challenge of the lifestyle of Fairbanks. They both now have moved to the Lower 48 establishing their careers, blessed with two grandsons.

Alaska is where for the last 33 years I have continued to strive and serve my community with passion and integrity. I am outdoorsy and urbanized to do and know both lifestyles.
For me in Alaska, is being an Alaskan for Alaskans.

Join me on this journey to improve our state and quality of life for your family and future generations.

I would appreciate your vote and support during this campaign.
